RUSSIANS RESUME OFFENSIVE NEAR KOVEL AND FORCE TEUTONS TO GIVE GROUND

Infantry Inactive Except for Minor Actions—Bombardment at Vimy One of Extreme Violence

the Gorizia Region Italians By Counter Attack Recapture Points Gained By Austrians—Other Offensives Snuffed Out By Artillery Fire—Russians Seemingly Clearing The Way For a Renewal of Hostilities.

(Canadian Associated Press) The violent infantry engagements on Saturday and Sunday in various sections of the front in France gave way on Monday to intense artillery duels. The infantry remained inactive except on several portions of the British lines, where Sir Douglas Haig's men fired out minor operations.

Clear Out Huns.

Before the lull the British had finished the task of clearing out Germans from the single post they had held as a result of the attack of Sunday near Chersy, southeast of Arras, but the Germans are still holding the footing they had obtained late Sunday in an attack on French front line positions northwest of the Froidmont.

To the south of Ypres, around Wytschaete, and on the famous Ridge sector between Lens and Arras, artillery battles of extreme violence are in progress between the British and Germans, while the French and Germans are engaged in spirited duels in the big guns west of Bray-En-Laonnois, and on the Craonne-Vervins section.

Austrians Force Fighting.

From the region of Gorizia to the head of the Gulf of Trieste the Austrians Sunday forced the Italians to accept battle at various points, especially on the western slopes of San Marco, near Gorizia, where they invaded Italian positions that had previously been levelled by their gunfire. Their tenure of these, however, was short lived, the Italians reinforced in a counter attack drove out the invaders, inflicting heavy casualties. The other offensives were put down in incipiency by the Italian artillery.

Russians On Move.

The usual quietude on the eastern front has been broken by the Russians near Kovel and in the Carpathians, near Pnevi. In what apparently were minor attacks the Russians in both places cut the entanglements of the Teutonic allies and forced them to give up.

ATTER ATTACK ON SOLDIERS' MORATORIUM AND MRS. MCLUNG AT VERMILION TORY MEETING

Described by A. U. G. Bury, of Mr. Ewing's Office, As Vicious Piece of Legislation—"Stand By Sanity and Sobriety, Not Nellie McClung," Says He.—Liberal Refused Privilege of Platform.

(Special to Morning Bulletin) ERMILLION, Alta., June 4.—At a conservative rally here, tonight, at which A. G. Bury, of Mr. Ewing's office, was the principal speaker, the audience was astounded to hear a speaker on the soldiers' moratorium bill as a vicious piece of legislation and an equally bitter attack on Nellie McClung.

Debt Evaders
Mr. Bury described all members of his home guard as debt evaders, deliberately defrauding the money loaned to them by their wives. He also intimated that soldiers' wives were allowed the privilege of the platform.

Confident of Victory
Mr. Sifton will close his campaign here with a big rally Tuesday night. After his tour of the province the premier is spending the last days of the campaign in his own riding. He expects to be in Ermillion on the west end and will reach Vermilion tomorrow. He has been received with great acclaim and his election by at least four hundred majority is confidently predicted.

MEASURES TO STOP CUSTOMS' EVASIONS

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire) OTTAWA, June 4.—Hon. J. D. Reid, secured the privilege through committee of the house of amending the customs act providing for the collection of duties in certain cases on goods imported by the crown. The resolution also provides that if any imported goods seized in any building within 100 yards of the frontier between Canada and any foreign country are found to be such, buildings shall be seized, taken down and removed. The object is to do away with certain roadhouses built on the international boundary line which are used in connection with evasions of the customs law.

SAY MINISTER IS APOLOGIST OF HIGH PRICES

Liberal Members Challenge Explanation of Hon. T. W. Crothers in House.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire) OTTAWA, June 4.—This evening in the House of Commons, during the consideration of his estimates, Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor, gave the house the results of inquiries which have been made into the cost of coal and sugar in Canada. He absolved both the refiners and the coal dealers from blame, stating that present prices are due to conditions arising out of the war. Mr. Crothers expressed the view that a food controller would not be able to do much to bring about a reduction in the price of food commodities.

The provincial government, through the Technical Institute in Calgary, under Dr. Miller's excellent guidance, has educated and passed for the provinces more discharge soldiers than all the other provinces put together. This was revealed at the recent conference at Ottawa of the representatives of the hospital commission.

Indeed, the Technical Institute and the agricultural colleges have been virtually turned over to the use of the discharged soldiers.

No other province in the country has at least the merit of being much better in a practical sense than that noted out by any of the other provinces.

Alberta is the only province in Canada that has trained any returned soldiers, discharged from hospital, in the science of agriculture.

No other province so far has done a thing in this direction.

Crawford's Discretion
H. Crawford also spoke, following the usual lines about telephone and ministers' travelling expenses. Mr. Crawford omitted his

HUNS SUSTAIN HEAVY LOSSES LENS FIGHTING

Canadians Compelled To Retire After Succession of Attacks—Concentrated Artillery Fire.

(Canadian Associated Press) LONDON, June 5.—Information concerning the recent fighting in the Lens is given in a despatch to the Daily News from its correspondent at the front. He telegraphed:

Against Bavarians

"On our side were the Canadians. Their opponents were again the Bavarians, the 50th division.

"The affair began with an attack by the Canadians late Saturday night on a front of about 2,000 yards along the south side of the Souchez river, to the west and southwest of Avion. It was a beautiful moonlit night. The Canadian attack, which was delivered with great smartness, was in its first great success. The Bavarians we were in possession not only of the enemy trenches aimed at, but of strong fortified positions at what used to be the electric light works, about 500 yards south of the river and a so-called 'brewery' on the Lens-Arras road, 700 yards farther east. When however, as had happened more than once in this battle, having won the position, we found them impossible to retain.

Great Number Guns

"The Germans have a great number of guns concentrated in practically inaccessible positions east of Lens against the fire of which our men were without protection. After a heavy bombardment with these guns the enemy counter-attacked. The attack was beaten off, the Canadian fighters very stoutly against overwhelming odds. But attacks followed in succession during the course of the day, before which, combined with the enemy's heavy artillery fire, our men were compelled to gradually fall back again.

Local Affair

"Though we remained on ground and it was strictly a local affair, it served the most important end of inflicting a heavier loss on the enemy than we suffered."

HIGH POWERED WIRELESS FOR HUN SPY PLANS

Plot Unearthed—Plant Taken Piecemeal To Mexico—Sent News of Destroyers.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire) NEW YORK, June 4.—Evidence that two complete high powered wireless installations, assembled here from various sources, were shipped piecemeal to Mexico, supposedly for use of a German spy system in this country, was unearthed today in connection with the arrest of three men on charges of conspiring to send mail containing military information surreptitiously from the United States to Germany through members of the German ship crews.

It was intimated by the United States commissioner before whom the alleged plotters were arraigned that it was through their instrumentality that advance news of the impending arrival in the United States of the American destroyer fleet was sent to Germany. This fleet was known to have been in this country since it had sailed. Several hundred letters have been seized, written in English, German and Spanish, and some apparently in code.

The prisoners are Harry F. Perissi and Irving Bonaparte, both said to be American born, employed by a German electrical company here, and Axel E. MacArthur, a naturalized citizen from Sweden. They are charged with conspiring to induce members of the crews of two Spanish steamers chartered to carry regular United States mail to take letters and packages from this country destined for Germany, in violation of the law prohibiting competition with the United States mail. When the three were arrested, Commissioner Hitchcock, said: "The mail was seized, and the Commissioner [Hitchcock, bail was fixed at $25,000 for Perissi, and Bonaparte, and $20,000 for MacArthur.]

NELSON FOR CONSCRIPTION
NELSON, B. C., June 4.—Nelson city council tonight went on record as supporting Sir Robert Borden's selective draft conscription proposal and also urged that action be taken to conscript the whole man power and credit is due enemy-soldier vote.

In the contrary notwithstanding

He was criticized by George Kyte and other Liberal members, who stated that the minister had become the apologist for those responsible for the present high cost of living. Mr. Kyte asserted that the language used by the minister was not that used by Mr. Hoover, the American food dictator, who had stated that in most cases the high cost of articles of food was due to speculation.

COALITION IS STILL SUBJECT OF POURPALERS

Another Conference Between Leaders Announced for Today.

OPTIMISTIC FEELING AS TO FINAL SUCCESS

Premier Questioned By Dr. Clark, Red Deer, In House.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire) OTTAWA, June 4.—The first man within the four walls of the parliament chamber was Dr. Michael Clark, member for Red Deer. When the orders of the day were reached at 3 o'clock this afternoon he rose and asked the prime minister "as an unassuming member of the rank and file of the house, and on behalf of an anxious, waiting and expectant public, as well as on behalf of the men at the front, whether the existing deadlock is likely to end within a reasonable time?"

The question aroused the house and every member present leaned forward to hear Sir Robert Borden's reply. The premier, after a moment's hesitation, rose.

"I trust I will not be considered lacking in courtesy to the honorable member, or in respect to the house if I state that there is no announcement to make at the present time."

When the question was put by the member for Red Deer, Sir Wilfrid Laurier was sitting on a back opposite bench engaged in conversation with Hon. Frank Oliver and Fred Parkes.

Sir Robert Borden subsequently stated to representatives of the press that he expects to have another conference with Sir Wilfrid Laurier on Tuesday. That negotiations are still looking to the formation of a coalition government, the other conditions and outcome as to the ultimate success of the two leaders appears tonight to be growing.

The question aroused the house and every member present leaned forward to hear Sir Robert Borden's reply. The premier, after a moment's hesitation, rose.

"I trust I will not be considered lacking in courtesy to the honorable member, or in respect to the house if I state that there is no announcement to make at the present time."

When the question was put by the member for Red Deer, Sir Wilfrid Laurier was sitting on a back opposite bench engaged in conversation with Hon. Frank Oliver and Fred Parkes.

The cause of the explosion has not yet been ascertained.

The most seriously burned and otherwise injured were Mrs. Charles Knight and her daughter and baby; Miss Rose and Andrew Lewis, Leonard Sparks, Willie and Horace Bridgewater and Earl Etherington.

More than 300 men responded to the call for help and literally lifted the entire roof of the caved in building off those caught in the wreckage.

CONSERVATIVE GIVES HIS REASONS WHY SIFTON GOVT. IS BEST ONE FOR ALBERTA

(From the Calgary Eye Opener)

Some curiosity having been expressed in sporting circles over the support given by the Conservative-inclined editor of The Eye Opener to the Sifton government during the present campaign, the genial editor begs leave to give his reasons for what in reality is a non-partisan stand.

In the first place, he declines to take for granted that the Sifton government is rotten and unsuccessful simply because Michener says so.

In the second place, he takes strong objection to the dishonest practice of party men telling people that a government is crooked and incompetent when deep down in their hearts they must know they are lying.

In the third place, outside of Tweedie and Headley, the Conservative party has not within its ranks any group of high-caliber men equipped with sufficient ability to administer, with any prospect of success, the affairs of this province. The reigning bunch, abuse them as you will, have at least reason to show upon the merits of which they are seemingly not fitted to form judgment.

And, finally, the fourth reason, the Sifton government does not appeal for what upon a platform of promises, but upon a record of things accomplished. Any government is good enough for us that has successfully tackled such problems as:

Agricultural and technical education of returned soldiers;

Higher education for the boys and girls of the province;

Home rule for municipalities;

Conservation of public health;

Co-operative industry;

Public ownership of public utilities;

Establishment of the last-free homestead area in the north;

Married women's property rights;

Encouragement of the livestock industry;

Rural credits;

Provincial police;

Minimum wage;

Regulation of shops;

Protection of the rights of the workingman;

The eight-hour day;

Provincial legislation;

Care of dependent and delinquent children;

Soldiers' relief;

The moratorium;

Rural hospitals;

Women's franchise;

Etc., etc., etc.

ELECTION AGENTS SOUTH EDMONTON ELECTORAL DIVISION

The Agents named by the Candidates for South Edmonton Electoral Division for the purpose of the Election Act are John J. McKenzie, Implement Dealer, corner Main Street and 86th Avenue, Edmonton, agent for Robert B. Douglas, and James A. Ross, of the Bank of Commerce Chambers, Whyte Avenue, Edmonton, for Herbert H. Crawford.

Dated at Edmonton this 2nd day of June, 1917.

GEORGE YOUNG,
Returning Officer.

To The Electors of West Edmonton

Which, a Business Man, or a Dreamer?

This Western Country is the Land of Self-Made Men.

There is a citizen of the city of Edmonton who came here about twenty-five years ago on his own hook, but with an unlimited capital of pluck, endurance and perseverance. Through hard work and shrewdness, he has established a sound and prosperous business for himself, and as a mayor has saved his city from financial ruin.

Everybody knows that I speak of Mayor Henry, our chief magistrate. It is a well known fact that Mr. Henry never looked for municipal honors, but was persuaded by his fellow-townsmen to contest the mayoralty in order to give Edmonton a clean business-like administration. We all know that his efforts have been crowned with success. Now his grateful townsmen, realizing his administrative abilities, wish him to enter a wider sphere of action, where he is sure to distinguish himself as he has done in the past.

On the other hand, Mr. Ewing may be an honest man, but he lacks driving power compared to Mayor Henry.

Those of us who have heard both on the same platform, are aware that the Liberal Candidate is a clear-headed and forceful debater, who knows how to handle figures and statistics; whereas Mr. Ewing lacks force, is vague, indefinite in his remarks. In fact, he does not seem to know exactly his own mind, like most of his Conservative friends in the present campaign.

On the 7th of June, the electors of West Edmonton will have to choose between a successful business man and efficient mayor—or vote for a dreamer, as Mr. Ewing appears to be.

A LIBERAL.

AMERICANS ARE IN WAR TO WIN SAYS W. J. STARK

Fair Manager Speaks of Enthusiasm In U. S. For The Allies.

W. J. Stark, manager of the exhibition, has returned from an extended trip to Ottawa, Toronto, New York, and other Eastern cities.

Toronto Mr. Stark completed a number of matters for the Western Canada fairs circuit, as well as business with the Edmonton Exhibition Association, details of which will appear at a later date.

He visited New York to confer with the National Child Welfare Association, which has for its object the bringing about through education such a readjustment of the child's environment that all forces making for health and manhood and only such forces, shall play upon the normal child.

The exhibit is designed to show the community "what is being done for the child, what is not being done for the child, and what should be done for the child."

In this exhibit the utmost care has been taken to present the latest work of scientific knowledge by text that is easily understood. Arrangements are rapidly being completed for the big exhibit, which will be staged in the new building set apart for school work and art.

Mr. Stark was greatly impressed with the military spirit in the air all the American cities. He stated that in New York a large percentage of the automobiles carry the three flags of England, France and the United States.

Many of the larger business houses, especially in the financial and financial part of the business, public library of the City of New York stands at the corner of 42nd street and 5th avenue have been set apart as a recruiting station. Farther down at Union Square, where Broadway crosses 14th street, a large man-of-war ship, helping to train 250 feet long, as a recruiting station.

The lawns in Union Square have been dug up and model back yards growing all kinds of vegetables convey their message to the hundreds of thousands who pass that busy spot in New York.

The people everywhere are being invited to "enlist or invest," and are informed that "if the flag is good enough to fight for," and the city is placard with many similar mottoes.

Mr. Stark states that the Americans are evidently in earnest as a nation in this war.

SUTHERLAND GIVES SPEECH AT COLINTON

Remarkable Meeting Held In
Sturgeon Riding In Opposition
To Hon. Mr. Boyle.

Athabasca Herald: On Friday night last at Colinton school house Mr. Sutherland, the Conservative candidate for the Sturgeon constituency, in opposition to Hon. J. R. Boyle, minister of education, introduced himself to the electors of that part of the riding. He was accompanied by two Conservative supporters, Mr. B. Accord, one a Mr. Boynton, the other's name could not be ascertained, but he stated he was a returned soldier.

The meeting was billed to open at 8:30, but the candidate and his party, early in the evening, took a handcar and went to Meando and did not return to Colinton until 10 p.m. Mr. Boyle, who had been first to speak, was followed by Mr. Sutherland, the speaking, which quickly took on the nature of a cross-examination on the part of the audience. Mr. Boynton's remarks were short, as follows:

Mr. Boynton, holding up a newspaper, from which he quoted: "I hold a newspaper which I got from the Liberals; and they certainly did not know it was ours, or they would let it get out. The beginning of the A. & G. W. railway was a big steal. Mr. Boyle's remarks were short, as follows:

A voice—Wasn't it Boyle who broke up the A. & G. W.?

Boydton—I don't know, but if Boyle broke it up it was because he couldn't get in on the grade.

Mr. Boyle—The debt of Alberta is $20,000,000 and we have no revenue only 13,000 we get from the Dominion government.

A voice—Don't we get something out of licenses?

Boydton—A little; not worth bothering about.

A voice—Put that $20,000,000 or the backbone and it's ours.

Boydton—It ain't itemized in this paper that I hold. It takes $13,000 to run the attorney general's department and something like $30,000 to run the government building, and a lot runs into money.

Mr. Boyle then sat down and Mr. Sutherland spoke as follows:

Mr. Sutherland—I can't say on what I wish I was, and if I got into the house at the foot of the hill in Edmonton (parliament buildings) I'd sure make 'em go some. Now, I ain't going to run Mr. Boyle down. About the only thing I got against Mr. Boyle is that something or other came up in the house and the Conservative people are investigating, and Mr. Boyle wouldn't vote for it. That's all I go against Mr. Boyle.

The "cow bill" is something like little boys get, five people signing a note. The government has to send out and buy cows and four neighbor have to watch the other.

A voice—Don't you like the bill?

Mr. Sutherland—Well, if it is all right if it is properly handled.

A voice—If you were handling it would you just let the people go out and buy cattle any old way and have the bill sent to the government?

Mr. Sutherland—Yes, that would be a better way. The farm man ac-shouldn't be considered at all. The government will just tie you up.

A voice—How would the banks be if they didn't tie you up?

Mr. Sutherland—You try 'em, and see what they'll do to you.

Continuing, Mr. Sutherland said:
"I'm for the both Conservatives and Liberals, but I don't like this Sifton government for something. I can't think of the word; I have it over there in my grip."

Here a young farmer put several questions as to what the word was.
Finally the farmer asked Mr. Sutherland if it were "reciprocity."

Mr. Sutherland—Yes, that's the word. If it hadn't been for that I'd have probably voted for the Liberal government at the last Dominion election.

Young Farmer—What does the word "reciprocity" mean, Mr. Sutherland?

Mr. Sutherland—Well, I don't know exactly, but at the time I had read about it.

Young Farmer—What is it 2 1/2 per cent off on machinery?

Mr. Sutherland—Well, I don't know if it had been that I'd have probably voted for it. I understand it to be about something about machinery.

Young Farmer—What is it 2 1/2 per cent off on machinery?

Mr. Sutherland—I don't know; I've forgotten. I'm out for the farmers. The Conservatives have no strings on me.

They say there's another fellow running against Boyle and just before election he's to quit and turn his vote over to me; but I don't know anything about that; I'm for the farmers. The Conservatives have no strings on me.

A Farmer—Do the farmers have a platform?

Mr. Sutherland—Well, I think they have, but they don't mix up in politics.

A Farmer—Don't the Conservatives and Liberals each have a platform?

Mr. Sutherland—I don't know.

A Farmer—How can you tell
if a farmer's a farmer's candidate?

Mr. Sutherland—I don't call myself a farmer's candidate. I call myself a farmer candidate.

A Farmer—Don't you think by putting yourself as a farmer's candidate that they would have a little sympathy for you and would rather vote for you than for a Conservative?

Mr. Sutherland—No, I don't think so.

A Farmer—Well, then, if you are such a farmer's man I don't see why you didn't come out as an independent.

That would give both Liberals and Tories a chance to vote for you.

A Farmer—You couldn't run independent. I'm really a farmer.

Mr. Sutherland then launched off on the school question and said: "Now the schools is all opening up on account of just before election."

A voice—Aren't some schools closed on account of a shortage of teachers?

Mr. Sutherland—No.

Mr. Sutherland—Yes, I'm on the Keever school district committee at this time, and I stated that they had tried for quite a time to get a teacher, but had been unsuccessful until they anpealed to Hon. J. R. Boyle, minister of education. The minister had sent a teacher at once to teach on permit.

Here the Conservative returned solemnly to part in the evening's proceedings and stated: "I am on the school board at Bon Accord and we advertised for a teacher. We quickly got sixty-four applications. It is no trouble to get a teacher. The whole country is lousy with them."

A remarkable meeting then closed.

MRS. H. W. OWEN GETS WORD OF HUSBAND and Arm

He is in German Hospital With Gunshot Wounds in Side
and Arm

Word has been received by Mrs. H. W. Owen of the meteorological office, Monday morning that her husband, Lieut. H. W. Owen, is in a hospital at Limburg, Germany, suffering from gun shot wounds in his left side and left arm.

When he left Canada he was a corporal and received his commission just before going to France. Although his name appeared in a dispatch from London last week Mrs. Owen did not receive official notice from Ottawa until Monday morning.

Athabasca Herald: On Friday night last at Colinton school house Mr. Sutherland, the Conservative candidate for the Sturgeon constituency, in opposition to Hon. J. R. Boyle, minister of education, introduced himself to the electors of that part of the riding. He was accompanied by two Conservative supporters, Mr. B. Accord, one a Mr. Boynton, the other's name could not be ascertained, but he stated he was a returned soldier.

The meeting was billed to open at 8:30, but the candidate and his party, early in the evening, took a handcar and went to Meando and did not return to Colinton until 10 p.m. Mr. Boyle, who had been first to speak, was followed by Mr. Sutherland, the speaking, which quickly took on the nature of a cross-examination on the part of the audience. Mr. Boynton's remarks were short, as follows:

Mr. Boynton, holding up a newspaper, from which he quoted: "I hold a newspaper which I got from the Liberals; and they certainly did not know it was ours, or they would let it get out. The beginning of the A. & G. W. railway was a big steal. Mr. Boyle's remarks were short, as follows:

A voice—Wasn't it Boyle who broke up the A. & G. W.?

Boydton—I don't know, but if Boyle broke it up it was because he couldn't get in on the grade.

Boydton—It ain't itemized in this paper that I hold. It takes $13,000 to run the attorney general's department and something like $30,000 to run the government building, and a lot runs into money.

Capt. Coyne, of the military staff at Calgary, spent the week-end in town.

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Lailley are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son. Dr. and Mrs. Lailley, who are residents of Toronto, have many friends in Edmonton, having lived here for some years and only having left the city comparatively recently.

Mrs. W. F. Seymour, who has been visiting friends at Hazel Bluff for the past three weeks, is expected home on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Norman Franks, a sister of Mrs. Gretta Hawkins, and who has been in England for some time, is a V. A. D. nurse in the Beechmount hospital, Folkstone.

Mrs. Edmonton and Miss Gertrude Edmonton, who have been in England since last September, are back in the city and are guests at the Corona.

Lieut. Jack Mitchell has been invalided home from the front and arrived in the city Sunday morning to be the guest of his mother, Mrs. H. Johnstone, and Mr. W. J. Nearly forty dollars was made on Saturday when the Catholic Women's League held a second rummage sale to clear out a number of parcels and many articles which could not be gathered in time for the first sale. Altogether, from both sales, the amount reaches about one hundred and sixty dollars, which sum is most gratifying to the league.

Over seventy-five ladies representing the different chapters of the I.O.D.E. were very salesians in the different departments of the "Bouillon" Bay Co. on Saturday. It was a fine day and the store was thronged with customers until six o'clock. Judging from the crowd the result of this sale will net a substantial sum to the Municipal Chapter. Mrs. Walter E. Laird deserves much credit for the efficient way in which the whole affair was managed under her conenvorship.

Rose Day comes on Saturday and great preparations are being made to make it a real rose day. Mrs. Walter E. Laird has the affair in hand and under her able conenvorship success is assured.

The Daily Poem

"TO OUR FALLEN"

Ye sleepers, who will sing you?
We can but give our tears—
Ye dead men, who shall bring you
Fame in the coming years?

Faith, but who remembers
The flame that fired your embers?

Deep, deep the sleep that holds you
Who one time had no peers.

Yet maybe Fame's but seeming
And praise you'd set aside,
Content to go on dreaming,
Ye, happy to have died

If of all things you prayed for—
All things your valor paid for—
One prayer is not forgotten,
One purchase not denied.

That God grant your dear England
A strength that shall not cease
Till she have won for all the Earth
From ruthless men release,

And made supreme upon her—
Mercy and truth and Honor—

WOMEN'S NATIONAL COUNCIL APPOPTS SINGLE TAX C'TEE

Action Taken After Motion In Favor Had Been Defeated On Vote.

WINNIPEG, June 4.—"As citizens we are too fresh at this game of largess to attempt to deal with it adequately. I am particularly opposed to this body of women endorsing any principle with which they are not entirely familiar. Besides that, I am absolutely against the principle of single tax," was the statement made by Mrs. Anderson, president of the National Council of Women's Civic League, speaking to a motion before the National Council of Women's convention this morning, advocating single tax as the means for raising extra taxes.

The motion was lost by a standing vote of 47 to 27 delegates, largely because they felt they were handling a vital problem which they had not considered thoroughly enough.

It was agreed to appoint a standing committee to go into the whole question of taxation and present its conclusions at the earliest opportunity.

In "A ROMANCE OF THE
REDWOODS"DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in "In Again
Out Again," all this week at the Monarch Theatre."DOUG" HAS NEW HOME HERE FOR HIS SCREEN PLAYS

"Doug" Fairbanks has gone over to the enemy. That statement may not mean very much to the average theatre patron, but to motion picture "fans," "bugs" or devotees in Edmonton it means that instead of seeing your favorite movie star at the Empress theatre you now see him at the Monarch, if you please. The smiling one has transferred his loyalty and pay check from the coffers of the Triangle to the coffers of Artcraft, all of which has been duly heralded in the local press for many weeks past.

Fairbanks, of Denver, Colo., that is, his gelatin self came to the Monarch screen yesterday in "In Again, Out Again," which was written especially for him by Anita Loos, the tiny little bit of 5 feet 4, who has for several weeks and months provided the funny subtitles for the Fairbanks feature films. The story of "In Again—Out Again" is what has been exploited on a local screen in many weeks, dealing as it does with a character considerably out of the ordinary, a man who breaks his heart because there is no place he doesn't want to leave.

Miss Loos knew her star and knew him well, his qualifications, strong point and limitations, and her script features the same which is said to be worth twice as much as the Fairbanks athletic ability, which combined make "Doug" really get that $15,000 or not be hardly worth any argument these strenuous days when subscription rates for the average picture star are $10,000.

The front page of "Doug" is amusing, his new film play is amusing. So why argue? "Arline" Pretty (stage name) will take the lead in the stateside of Jewish Carmen, so well remembered in "Manhattan Madness" and several of "Doug's" other star vehicles for Triangle. Arline is just right for the part, and it is to be hoped "Doug" has her for that express purpose, to look Pretty. Whether she can act as well as Miss Carmen is matter of opinion, but she is a good actress, so let's hope "Doug" is on the screen there need be no occasion for worry on the score of acting. "Doug" is all the action at all times, and gets the salary of $100—big dough.

Judging by the patronage the Monarch enjoyed yesterday Fairbanks promises to be considerably more of a drawing card than the other two Artcraft screen stars that could be mentioned without talking about "unknowns."

EMPRESS—It is quite a transformation from the dainty fairies of the "fairyland" of the Empress to the manly heroes of the "fairyland" of the Salvation Army, yet the transformation does not in the least detract from the beauty of Edna May, the English actress of "Joan," the seven reel feature which is at the Empress theatre today and Wednesday. The day is the talk of the Edmonton theatre world, and the picture is a smash hit.

It is going out of the ordinary to indicate a woman of so many attainments of fame and fortune to be the object of retirement, to perform in a single photo play.

It is the story of the life of Edna May, the former "Belle of New York."

Salvation Joan

Edna May, a few years ago, dazzled the world as the "Belle of New York"; since then she has been worshipped by the poor of the London slums, who named her the "White Orchid." Now she is loved by millions of Americans as "Salvation Joan."

VICTORIA HIGH WINS A HARD FOUGHT SOCCER GAME AGAINST R.N.W.M.P.—SCORE TWO TO ONE

d Coats Had Weight But School Boys Had Skill and Combination—One Each In First Half—Topping Makes Winning Goal.

such a game as was played on high school ground last evening could be often witnessed. The game, in the old country as "soccer" ball, would be more popular in monton than it is today. The teams aged were representative of the Victoria high school and the Royal North West Mounted Police, and it simplified in this, as in other games of sport, the fact that "young serve" and "old men" had already played three games this season and succeeded in gaining a creditable victory in each case, two with Telephone department and one in the Reserve Soldiers, while the boys had engaged in but one encounter when they were defeated by Strathcona high school.

Equal at Half Time

When the teams were up, and Sergeant Thorne in the important capacity of referee gave the signal for play to commence, the difference between the opposing sides was so marked as to be generally commented on by the few spectators on the ground. On the one side the Mounties were of strong physique, while on the other, the representatives of the school were a bunch of healthy lads. "To heavy for 'em" remarked an old war veteran standing and it looked any odds on the West custodian had to look to his charge. For a time he kept this intact, but at length some little short passing on the left wing let in Topping, who defeated him with a well-placed goal. Almost until the end, the police were encroaching with vigor but without avail, and the upshot was a decidedly deserved victory for the high school students.

It may be mentioned that both the teams engaged are anxious to meet other clubs in friendly rivalry, and it is to be hoped the game may receive the impetus it deserves.

The teams lined up as follows: Victoria High School vs. S.C.O.A. Victoria high school—Phelps, Blue, E. Samis, Water, Chakauak, Morehouse, Craig, G. Samis, Thompson, Topping, McCabe.

R.N.W.M.P.—Cpl. Brown, Cpl. Saul, Cst. Barley, Cst. Buchanan, Cst. McCay, Cst. Garland, Cpl. Morris, Cst. Spencer, Cst. A. Pitson, Sgt. Warrior, Cpl. Brown.

Referee—Sgt. F. Thorne.

The planting is all done at Vermillion now and the crop is making a very good showing, considering the backward season. However, Vermillion was two weeks ahead of Peace River in planting, and Peace River was as much ahead of Edmonton. Although Peace River is in latitude forty-eight, farming has been carried on there for almost a hundred years and to advantage.

Close behind the "Thomas" came the S.S. "Athabasca," arriving from the same point, and the "Northland" followed third in line. Both of the boats have large cargoes to be taken back on their return trips, and a number of passengers who are anxiously waiting to get back to their work in the north in the MacKenzie River district. Those who go on business are traders, police and missionaries, and not a few are going for pleasure trips.

SION

At Sion the farmers are busy as can be on the land, but during the past ten days the weather has been very unsettled; rain every other day and frost each night ranging from seven degrees to ten degrees of frost, which delays growth; still things are looking fairly well.

There is a prospect of a good hay season, the grass is growing luxuriously, the joy of the dairy folks.

GERMAN CROPS

ARE REPORTED

SATISFACTORY

Copenhagen, via London, June 4.—The German crops now show a fairly satisfactory condition, according to German reports, particularly in southern and western Germany, although plenty of rains continue to be the earnest desire of the farmers. The dry, hot weather during May—the driest May in 16 years, with a rainfall half of the normal—brought on the crops to grow so rapidly that the farmers in southern and western Germany are reckoning upon harvest at the usual date, notwithstanding the greatly delayed spring.

The government has made all arrangements to rush the early potatoes from the ground to the market and has ordered an exact census to determine the acreage and probable date of ripening of each individual patch, in order to take them as fast as possible to relieve the drain upon the dwindling grain stocks.

Very few potatoes now are reaching the market, and the ration almost everywhere has been cut from three pounds down to nothing, bread being substituted.

PEACE RIVER

Bulletin Correspondence. If some of our visitors of three years or less should return now, the sight that they would see would indeed make them feel proud of the progress we have made. Our "dead little burg" as some termed it once, is far from being in any such a state, and our river front resembles a busy shipping port, with three large steamers plying steadily up and down the river.

When the "Thomas" landed on Thursday noon it carried a cargo of one hundred and sixty tons of wheat and flour from the shipper Lawrence's farm at Vermillion. The wheat is being shipped to the Grain Growers Association in Winnipeg and is all No. 1 hard. The potatoes, however, found a ready market right here. Mr. Lawrence is going east with his shipment and while there will arrange a market for about seven thousand more bushels which will be ready for shipping in a short time, as the D. A. Thomas will bring this lot up on its next trip.

The planting is all done at Vermillion now and the crop is making a very good showing, considering the backward season. However, Vermillion was two weeks ahead of Peace River in planting, and Peace River was as much ahead of Edmonton. Although Peace River is in latitude forty-eight, farming has been carried on there for almost a hundred years and to advantage.

Close behind the "Thomas" came the S.S. "Athabasca," arriving from the same point, and the "Northland" followed third in line. Both of the boats have large cargoes to be taken back on their return trips, and a number of passengers who are anxiously waiting to get back to their work in the north in the MacKenzie River district. Those who go on business are traders, police and missionaries, and not a few are going for pleasure trips.

STONY PLAIN

Bulletin Correspondence.

An enthusiastic well attended meeting in support of Frank Smith, the Liberal candidate, was held at Stony Plain Friday night. Mr. R. Woods, of Stony Plain, Mr. Frank Smith and Mr. Stear from Edmonton were the speakers.

Mr. Woods showed conclusively that the present administration has passed several acts to improve the status of women, not to mention the ballot and prohibition and that a continuance of the present government in power is necessary to complete the good work already done in the province.

Mr. Frank Smith gave a good account of the aims and doings of the Liberal party, and gave the impression that as a speaker and a practical business farmer he is a candidate worthy of the most support.

Mr. Stear outlined some of the leading principles of Liberals, and showed that the Sifton government had consistently followed these aims since they took office, and claimed support for the present administration on account of this and the numerous beneficial acts passed for the people of the province.

Rev. G. A. Sander, who has been so popular and successful in his work here, has finished his term, and leaves here, has finished his term, and leaves on a holiday trip to Ontario before entering on his next field.

Mr. Shaw, principal of the village school, is meeting with marked success in his efforts to build up an efficient system.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Woods, J. A. Patitutto, and others spent the week-end in Edmonton.

TUESDAY, JUNE 5, 1917.

The kind of administration a Government can give is not determined so much by the strength and character of the Opposition as by the quality of the men upon whom the Government has to rely or support in the Legislature. An Opposition member speaks as an enemy whose support could not be secured whatever the Ministers might do. A supporter speaks as a man whose vote in the House is needed, and whose influence for good or bad administration is proportionately great. The Province and the city, no less than the Sifton Government and the Liberal party, need that the Liberal candidates in this city shall be numbered among the men upon whom the Sifton Government will have to rely for support in the next legislature.

Dr. Stanley says he has proof of his charges that officials of the Government extorted money from the license-holders. Then why not enter action against them? The promise of the Premier still stands; that Dr. Stanley can pick the lawyer to prosecute the cases, and the magistrate and judge to try them, and the Province will pay the costs. And if any Minister is found to have been a party to the transactions the public and political results will be the same though the disclosure had been made before a Royal Commission. It is about time Dr. Stanley either used the means at his disposal or bringing out the facts or hoped pretending that he wants them brought out. His credit as a political house-cleaner is suffering a slump.

The Opposition demand that the users of the Provincial telephone system should be assessed the cost both of maintaining the system at its original value and of paying back the money put into it, is either a demand that the rates to subscribers be raised or that the operating expenses be cut down. The critics have not yet shown how the operating expenses could be cut to meet the additional allotment for sinking fund; on the contrary they propose to add to the overhead charges by putting the system under an operating commission, on a salary, of course. The establishment of a sinking fund, so far as they have shown, involves an increase in the telephone rates.

A new settler located on a vacant quarter section in the north country is of more value to Edmonton than a new resident added to the population of the city. It is not more population Edmonton needs, but more business. Given the increased business, the population of the city cannot be kept from growing as conditions justify. Without the increase of business a decrease of population could be a detriment and a handicap, not a benefit, to the city. Our best chance of getting that increase of business is in the settlement of the vacant lands of the country to the north, northwest and north-east, and that settlement can only occur as the country is made available for use by the construction of railways.

Provincial Government with a restrictive railway policy is the main hope of relieving this city from the consequences of over-expansion, and of realizing in the future the growth and importance to which the location of the city entitles it. The Sifton Government has an effective policy for inducing northern railway construction. The Michener Opposition has not.

Mr. Michener's manifesto to the electors has been issued in the form of a thirteen-page pamphlet, twelve pages being devoted to a picture which rather flatters the Opposition leader's good looks and to criticism of the Government which by no means flatters his power of discrimination between fact and fiction, while the unlucky odd page is appropriately occupied by six "planks" represented to inform the reader what "The Opposition stands for." At this symposium of the party policy is only able to make a present attempt at filling out the concluding page in the volume by grace of double leading, and could have been quite well accommodated on half the page by leaving out the leads and slugs. A more "lame and impotent ending" has probably not been seen among the political pronouncements of the land.

The first "plank" assures us that the Opposition stands for "An economic and business administration" of public affairs. This is a form of words employed in the campaign literature of every Opposition to declare its ideals and in the political leaflets of every Government to describe its record. Its appearance in this pamphlet is a recognition of the proprieties, and in no way commits the author and his followers to anything that need bring disengagement to the expectant seeker after a job.

Next among the things of importance to promote the development of this vast and mostly vacant Province, Mr. Michener considers to be the appointment of a Civil Service Commission. Considering that most of the time of a session is usually taken up by complaints from Mr. Michener and his followers that the expenses of government are already too heavy, and that of all expenses the least justified is that of the Public Utilities Commission, it is somewhat surprising to find him proposing to add to the expense bill by creating another commission to hire and fire employees. Of the out-working of such institutions under Conservative auspices we have had some unfortunate experience in Canada of which it is timely to make note. The dismissal and engagement of civil servants under the Dominion Government is supposed to be in the hands of a Civil Service Commission. In the session of 1916 it was brought out that during the five years the Borden government had then been in power they had, either because of the Commission or despite it, fired fourteen thousand Grit employees and put twenty-six thousand Conservative employees in their places; and that at a time when the business of the country was shrinking at a phenomenal rate. Quite clearly, if the civil service of the Province is to be put in charge of a commission the commission should be under some other direction than that of the Provincial under-studies of the Dominion ministers.

His third "plank" proposes another addition to the expense bill, and by the creation of still another commission: this to manage the Provincial telephone system. Seeing that there has not been shown to be anything seriously the matter with the present management of the telephone system, that in fact it could be sold out at a profit of some two million dollars as it stands, the imperative necessity of enlarging the expenditure in the way suggested is not apparent. And as the expenses of running the system have to be met by the rates charged for the use of telephones, it is obviously in the interest of the telephone users to get along without the commission, or other additional overhead expenses, as long as possible.

His fourth proposal for solving the great problems of provincial government is to devote the proceeds of the wild land tax to the establishment of rural hospitals. This, it is to be noted, is the third successive disposition Mr. Michener has made of this money. First he proposed to give the proceeds of the tax to the municipalities, or some of them, on what basis of apportionment, and for what purposes, not specified. Next he proposed to reduce the tax, and leave the money in the pockets of the land-holders. Now he would use it for the establishment of municipal hospitals—whether in the municipalities in which the land is situated, or in all municipalities, not stated. That is a point of some importance, and one upon which it is quite conceivable he would find some difficulty in satisfying all parties concerned. As matters stand that inconvenient question is avoided by a provision in the act that the municipal hospitals are open to the benefits of The Hospitals Ordinance, which provides that there may be paid to any hospital a sum of twenty-five cents per day for each patient treated. The hospitals are thus assured of help, and proportionate help, from the Provincial treasury, and help which will be permanent, whereas the proceeds from the wild lands tax must diminish as the purpose of the tax is accomplished in the bringing of wild land into cultivation.

Fifthly, Mr. Michener declares for a "constructive policy for a permanent road system throughout the Province," which policy, it will be noted, the Sifton Government has, and has been carrying out for years. Which policy, it will also be noted, cannot be carried into effect without either borrowing money or imposing taxes upon the farmers, both of which Mr. Michener declares to be wrong. On this head the choice seems to be whether we shall continue to borrow money and actually build roads, or whether we shall simply have a road policy and do without the roads.

The sixth and concluding proposal of Mr. Michener is to obtain control of the natural resources in the province, and to farm them for revenue, by imposing a penalty on anyone who wants to develop any of them. The Sifton Government has for years been trying to obtain control of these resources, and has met with precisely the success Mr. Michener would have—none at all. The Dominion Government for the present and some time to come has all the troubles on hand that it needs without inviting a row with each and several of the nine provinces of Confederation by proposing to readjust the financial arrangements between one province and the Dominion. Whoever is Premier, there will be no rearrangement of the financial relations between this, or any other Province, and the Dominion Government for some time to come.

Admission to Bar.

To the Bulletin Legal Department: Kindly explain the bar admission requirements of the different provinces in Canada, or, which province prescribes certain term of study and office? Which stipulates only that the applicant shall have a general knowledge of law? Who will require the applicant to prove that he has had high school education, or its equivalent before he will be admitted to the examination?

A READER, Edmonton.

We think that the regulations for admission to the bar are practically the same in all Provinces of Canada. The requirements for Alberta are:

1. The candidate must have at least matriculation standing as recognized by the University of Alberta and must be articled as a student to a solicitor practicing in the Province for five years. If the candidate is a graduate of a recognized University, he only needs to be articled for three years.

2. The candidate must have passed the three examinations set by the Society in the course of study prescribed.

If you wish to get the regulations governing the admission to the bar in the different Provinces in Canada you had better write to the Secretaries of the different Law Societies and they will give you any information you wish.

The mere threat to withhold supplies would be enough, if it were seen to be meant seriously.

If the House of Commons would use its power and act on it, a great deal of extravagance could undoubtedly be stopped.

But hitherto our experience has been that, while individual members are bold in making speeches about economy, the House collectively is as timid as a hare when speeches require backing by votes.

ALBERTA GOVERNMENT TELEPHONES

For the information of the public it is deemed advisable to give the essential facts in the negotiations between the Department and the Plant Employees, a limited number of whom have quit work.

The Telephone Companies both to the East and West have issued new regulation and wage schedules for the year 1917, which in substance provide for the same rate of wages as were granted the Alberta Government Telephone Employees in 1913.

The Local Union No. 348 I.B.E.W., of Calgary, made a request for a conference to discuss a revision of our schedule, to which the following reply was given:

Edmonton, April 12th, 1917.

W. Murdoch,
Local Union No. 348, I.B.E.W.,
Box 2181, Calgary.

Dear Sir—We are always pleased to discuss matters respecting the employees of this Department and to voluntarily institute regulations and establish rates consistent with the requirements and the interests of the people of the Province. To this end I shall be pleased to meet such Committee on Monday, the 16th inst.

Your very truly,
(Sgd.) W. J. HARMER,
Deputy Minister of Railways and Telephones.

NOTE—The date of meeting was changed to 23rd.

After a two days' conference, during which a full discussion took place, the Committee was informed that the Department would issue a new schedule in accordance with the conditions of my communication.

Following this conference, the schedule as printed below was submitted with the following letter:

Edmonton, May 10th, 1917

W. J. Dyson,
Box 2181,
Calgary.

Dear Sir—For your information I enclose a copy of our "Regulations and Wage Schedule," which I have no doubt the employees will greatly appreciate, as the regulations are better and the wage scale higher than those of any neighboring systems to the East or West.

Yours very truly,
(Sgd.) W. J. HARMER,
Deputy Minister.

The following reply to the Regulations and Wage Schedule was received:

CALGARY, MAY 14th, 1917

W. J. Harmer, Esq.,
Deputy Minister of Railways
and Telephones,
Edmonton.

Regulation and Wage Schedule.

Re yours of 10th inst. Regarding the above, beg to state that same does not meet with the approval of the employees affected, and that at a meeting held lately the employees empowered me to meet you to discuss the matter finally and, I trust, to the mutual satisfaction of all concerned.

AS THE BUSY SEASON WILL SOON BE UPON US, I would request that you give this communication your earliest attention, arranging by return mail, if possible, to meet a committee of employees not later than Monday, May 21st next.

Yours sincerely,

(Sgd.) E. D. GUINN.

In compliance with this request the General Superintendent and Plant Superintendent met the Committee in Calgary on May 22nd, when the Committee presented a new schedule embodying the three contentious matters, viz. an agreement with the Electrical Workers; recognition of the "Trade Terms"; abolition of the sliding scale, and lastly the acceptance of the agreement as presented, and further refused to even discuss the Regulations and Wage Scale that had been issued by the Department.

We have contracted all our construction work for several years with very gratifying results, and the question of following out that policy with respect to all our Plant requirements has been under advisement for some time.

Negotiations are now under way, and arrangements about completed, for taking care of our Maintenance Requirements, as a result of which we do not anticipate that our patrons will suffer any inconvenience.

W. J. HARMER, Deputy Minister.

Lower Taxes and Free Trade

CANADA'S FUTURE LIES IN WESTERN DEVELOPMENT — RESOLUTION MOVED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS BY HON. FRANK OLIVER AND SPEECH IN SUPPORT

(ansard, Wednesday, May 23, 1917.)
Moved by Hon. Frank Oliver, Edmonton, seconded by F. B. Arrell, Carleton, N.B.
That all the words after the word "that" be struck out and the following substituted there-

"In the opinion of this House would be in the public interest the Customs Tariff Act were amended as to provide:
1. That wheat, wheat flour, and other products of wheat be taxed upon the free list.
2. That farm implements and machinery, farm tractors, mining, saw and saw-mill machinery, and repairs for same, rough and partly dressed lumber, illuminating, lubricating and fuel oils, cement and fertilizers be added to the free list.
3. That staple foods and food products (other than wheat flour) domestic animals and foods there, be admitted into Canada free duty when coming from and the product of any country admitting like Canadian articles to such country free of duty.
4. That substantial reductions made in the general tariff on articles imported into Canada, excepting luxuries.
5. That the British Preference increased to fifty per cent of a general tariff."

Ways and Means—Amendments by Hon. Mr. Oliver
On the motion of Sir Thomas White Minister of Finance for the second reading of the resolutions reported on Committee of Ways and Means. Hon. Frank Oliver (Edmonton):

Speaker, before the resolutions are read second time, in pursuance of the given some days ago, I desire to move an amendment, but before doing

I wish to make a statement of my reasons for moving the amendment.

Record Revenue

In presuming to discuss the Budget speech laid before the House by the Minister of Finance, as seen in the outstanding fact is that the revenues during the past year are very much greater than our revenues have been at any other period in the history of the country. The revenue raised for the year ended March 31, 1917, is $322,000,000, an increase of $60,000 over the revenue of the previous year and of $100,000,000 over revenue of the year preceding last year; that is $100,000,000 more than was collected from the people of Canada during the same period last year. This is a sufficient starting fact to warrant very close and careful consideration. If this enormous increase in the national revenue came in the ordinary way as the result of improved trade and increased development, it would certainly be a matter for very great congratulation. If we had doubled our development as we have doubled our taxation, then as a country we certainly should be congratulated; we should certainly congratulate the British Government for having established without increasing our development, then in the opinion that the circumstances call for very serious consideration and for anything but congratulation. As a matter of fact, at the present time, if we look through our files, either in the East or in the West, there is no evidence of development; the situation is entirely contrary. If we ask our working people—and it is the condition of the working people that is the index of prosperity of the country—it is from end to end of the Dominion complaint as to the conditions prevailing at the present time. If we look at our basic industries of fishing, lumbering, mining, agriculture, I have seen in the returns the evidence that increased development that, if formed the basis of increased revenue, would be a matter for congratulation. If the conditions which I have before the House of Commons, and the conditions which we should induce how that we have taken from the people such an enormous amount of taxation when there has not been amongst those people any corresponding development of the basic industries of the country.

Abnormal Conditions
The answer is that this enormous revenue has been possible because of absolutely abnormal conditions, conditions brought about by the war, which must end with the ending of the war, and the burden of taxation is at those conditions will cease at the earliest possible moment. If we have increased our taxation power as the result of natural development and the expansion of enterprise, when the day of peace comes we shall necessarily find ourselves with a burden of taxation which we shall have an adequate means of bearing. The Minister of Finance has been continually to all the congratulations he is received; but in my humble judgment the conditions are not at all parallel. If the manager of a bank, as I say, is able to declare a satisfactory dividend to his shareholders, if the financial standing of the bank is good, it matters not to that bank, or at all, to the credit of the manager of the bank, what has happened to other financial institutions throughout the country. But the banking of our country is an entirely different matter. It is a matter of itself whether or not we have met expenditure out of the revenue in the year. If we have not, then of course we can criticise the Minister of Finance. But the important thing is a financial condition of the country large, whether the people of the country are in a position to bear the burdens that are now being imposed upon them. Every more important is the question whether they will be able to bear the burdens that we know best and question must be imposed upon them in the future. It appears to me at the question for consideration by the Minister of Finance and by this parliament is not so much whether we are able to balance expenditure by revenue, as to know whether our course has tended towards enabling our people to carry with greater ease the burdens that are now imposed upon them and the still greater burdens that must be imposed upon them later on.

Basic Industries Standing Still
We are raising today $322,000,000

from our people, and, as I have said, this enormous amount of revenue is made possible by the abnormal conditions. The war has enhanced the price of our products, and has caused the establishment within our borders of tremendous industries engaged in the manufacture of munitions. These industries have given high wages to a number of our people and thus have made possible the raising of this large amount of revenue. But if our basic industries of agriculture, mining, lumbering and fishing are not expanding, or if, as a matter of fact, they are being diminished by reason of the method of financing our country, then it is our business to draw attention to that fact and to attempt to secure as far as possible a change that will tend to permit, if not to encourage, the development of those basic industries upon which we must depend for our national revenues and for our standing as a state when the war is over. It is to that point I desire to direct the attention of the House and of the Minister of Finance.

An Ill-Adjusted Burden

We must levy an enormous burden of taxation in order to meet in any reasonable measure our present requirements. In comparing the system of taxation in Canada with the system in Great Britain, I find that in Great Britain, which shows an equally enormous increase in national revenue during the last year, 6 per cent of the total revenue of the United Kingdom was derived from the taxation of excess profits and the taxation of income and property, and only 22 per cent of the total was derived from customs and excise. In Canada, we have raised 6½ per cent of our total revenue from taxation of excess profits. We have taken not a cent from income or property, and we have taken 69 per cent from customs and excise. I therefore arrive at this conclusion. If we were to judge by the experience of Great Britain we are not levying our taxation to the best advantage. We are taking too much of our taxation from customs and not enough from wealth and excess profits. I conclude that Great Britain is able to do as she is doing, as she has done and as she will do in the future, very largely because of her system of getting the bulk of her taxation from wealth and profits incidental to the development and the greatness of Canada as it is to be must necessarily depend is to be found in the Prairie West. In the thousand miles of country lying between the Red River and the Rocky Mountains, and in the development of that fertility and bringing it into a state of productivity, will Canada find her greatness. The facts shortly are that the great resource of Canada, upon which the development and the greatness of Canada as it is to be must necessarily depend is to be found in the Prairie West. In the thousand miles of country lying between the Red River and the Rocky Mountains, and in the development of that fertility and bringing it into a state of productivity, will Canada find her greatness. Adventures of Uncle Wiggily

By Howard R. Garis

Uncle Wiggily and Grandpa Goosey

Copyright, 1917, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"What is the matter, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Grandpa Goosey Gander, the goose gentleman, one day, as he stopped in front of the soldier tent, where the rabbit bunny was learning to be a soldier and taught the most quiescent in the tent. "You seem very tired and sleepy, Mr. Longears," went on Grandpa Goosey.

"I am," answered Uncle Wiggily, opening wide his mouth to yawn, at the same time making his pink nose twinkle like a dill pickle at a Sunday school picnic. "You see, I have been awake so much nights, standing on guard in the trenches and front of my tent, so the enemy mosquitoes would not get me, that I can almost go to sleep now standing on my head. 'Why don't you?'" asked Grandpa Goosey.

"I would look so funny!" Uncle Wiggily answered.

"Maybe you can sleep tonight, then," spoke the goose gentleman.

"No, I'm afraid not," sadly replied the bunny rabbit. "I must keep guard tonight also, for there is no telling when the enemy mosquitoes will come."

"Ha, hum!" exclaimed Grandpa Goosey, sort of snapping one wing carelessly. "I think I shall find a way so you will get some sleep tonight, Mr. Longears."

"I wish you would," said Uncle Wiggily, this time making his pink nose twinkle like a raisin in a rice-pudding and at the same time stretching his paws sleepy-like. "I certainly would like to get a good night's rest, but still some one must be on guard against the mosquitoes, for that is a soldier's life."

"Oh, some one will be on guard, all right," promised Grandpa Goosey, and with that he waddled off toward his own penhouse. Uncle Wiggily kept on marching up and down in front of his tent with his talcum powder beanshooter popgun on his shoulder, learning to be a soldier so he could teach the animal boys what to do in war time, when the mosquitoes are very pestiferous.

That evening Grandpa Goosey Gander, taking a cornmeal sandwich from his pocket, started from his pen in his automobile, made with potato paring seats and an apple core for a steering wheel.

"Where in the world are you going?" asked Grandma Goose.

"I am going to stand guard in front of Uncle Wiggily's soldier tent so he can get some sleep," answered Grandpa Goosey. "It is not fair that I should stay awake every night. I must do my share of guard duty."

"But can you keep awake?" asked Mrs. Goose.

"Of course I can," honked Grandpa Gander, as he started his automobile by pulling the onion stalk that was a handle to make it go. "If I get sleep I'll just eat my cornmeal sandwich. Uncle Wiggily must get some rest."

So on rode Grandpa Goosey Gander to the trench where Uncle Wiggily was still on guard.

"Now you go right in your hollow bungalow and sleep, and I'll stand guard," said Grandpa Goosey as he wheeled his baked apple automobile to the edge of the trench-ditch, where the rabbit gentle man hid when the mosquitoes were throwing stones at him. "I'm going to be the guard soldier in your place, Mr. Longears."

"That is very kind of you," said Uncle Wiggily, yawning and gaping. "But are you sure you won't fall asleep?"

"Of course not!" cried Grandpa Goosey. "I have a cornmeal sandwich to keep me awake."

"Yes, do come in and get some rest," begged Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, as she stood in the doorway of the hollow bungalow.

So in hopped Uncle Wiggily, and Grandpa Goosey Gander, taking the toothpowder bean-shooting popgun, walked up and down on guard in front of the soldier tent.

"Ah, hum, hum!" exclaimed Grandpa Goosey, buttoning his feather-lined overcoat more closely about him. "I should like to see the mosquito enemy who can fool me!"

Night came, and it was very dark and warm and still. In spite of what he had said Grandpa Goosey began to feel sleepy.

"This must never do!" he quacked. "I'll eat my cornmeal sandwich and keep awake."

Well, this did keep him awake for a time, but soon he was more sleepy than ever.

"I'll just close my eyes for a second," thought the gander goose gentleman. "The mosquitoes will never know it."

So he leaned back against the trunk of a tree, which was rather soft, an' soon—soon—so-o-o-n Grandpa Goosey was as sound asleep as was Uncle Wiggily.
